'Carmel Lago' Occupies City Planning Group Meeting

Action on a matter decided at last week's meeting, took center stage at the very end of yesterday's Carmel Planning Commission meeting.

This concerned the matter of recommendations then being sent to the County Planning Commission with regard to the Carmel Rancho's proposed 120-unit "Carmel Lago" apartment complex to be located east of Highway 1, opposite Mission Fields, and near the Carmel River.

The letter composed by City Planning Director John Riling had had the approval of individual members of the Carmel commission before being conveyed to the County Planning Commission the day before, and it had labeled the "Lago" development as "unimaginative," lacking in "originality," and arranged to force a "rigid traffic circulation system" in the area involved.

Yesterday afternoon, however, several city planning commissioners complained that decision on the "Lago" matter, as on many others referred by the county commission to the city commission for its views, forced local planners to make hurried decisions on proposals which could have far-reaching and unfortunate effects.

City Planning Commission Chairman Fred Keeble felt that more fully thought-out views could have been presented to county authorities, if more time had been given for the development of those views. Had such time been given, he felt city commissioners could have provided valid grounds for "hearty disapproval" of the "Lago" subdivision plans as presented.

At the opening of yesterday's meeting—when commissioners sat as a Board of Adjustments — two public hearings were held on use-permit requests sought by Richard M. Flower and Yvan Nopert. Flower, whose property is located on the east side of Crespi near Mountain View, seeks to establish two "irregular" building sites on a 14,362-square-foot parcel, while Nopert — at Camino Real and 4th—wishes to establish two unequally sized building sites on a 12,650-square-foot property. Both matters were referred to committee following the hearings.

A proposed Flanders property development plan, which had been referred to an ad hoc committee last week, was continued in committee, and is now scheduled to be discussed at the Commission's October 16th study session.

In response to a request for an expression of views as to whether or not the City should consider the possibility of allowing recently legalized motels in the residential areas to convert themselves to apartments, an ad hoc committee composed of Commissioners Edward Neroda, Charles McEwen, and Dorothy von Meier, stated the Commission's view that such a conversion "would be a direct infringement" of the residential zone of the City.

Board In Quiet Session, Names New Member

What was expected to be a stormy session of the Carmel Board of Education over the Palo Colorado school turned out to be a routine meeting highlightd by the appointment of The Rev. James W. Brock to fill the vacancy on the board created by the recent resignation of Dr. Robert B. Newton.

The expected problems of the Palo Colorado failed to materialize when Norman Godbe, president of the parents group protesting closing of the school, stood silently as a protest.

Gradually 50 of his supporters also stood up in silence for several moments.

A philosophical difference exists between the board and the parents in the Palo Colorado school area on how children should be taught.

It is contended by the board that modern demands on students require specialists, and it would be expecting too much for one teacher to be familiar with all the technicalities. Students need specialized teachers and assistants and reference aids to prepare them for later years of education.

Dr. James Halcomb and Dan P. Yurkovich prepared a resolution which was presented and accepted. It authorizes participation in Title Five, Federal Project. This means that without any local contribution, up to $17,000 in Federal funds might be obtained for the use and development of teacher aides.

The board appointed The Rev. James W. Brock, vicar of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church in Carmel Valley as a new member.

Rev. Brock is a native of Denver, Colo., and graduated from the University of Colorado in 1952. He married a classmate, Virginia LaShell in August of the same year, then attended the Church Divinity School of the Pacific in Berkeley, receiving his degree in 1955.

He was ordained to the Episcopal Ministry in June of 1955 and served as assistant rector at Trinity Church in Greely, Colo.

He came to Carmel Valley in August of 1962, and since that time has been active in community affairs.

Rev. and Mrs. Brock have four children, all students in the Carmel Unified School System.

Joel, 7, attends Carmelo School; Amy, 10 and Michael, 12, are students at Middle School, and Becky, 14, attends Carmel High School.

ALPHA AND OMEGA—Scouting in the Ingalls family is a major activity. At a Court of Honor last week, Peter V. Ingalls, son of Col. and Mrs. Robert D. Ingalls, of Carmel, achieved scouting's highest honor, the rank of Eagle Scout. At the same ceremony, his younger brother Jeffery took his first step in scouting as Peter pinned Jeffery with a Tenderfoot badge. Peter is a student at Carmel High School and an avid camper and hiker.

FLEA MARKET?—This 1929 Rolls Royce Ascott Pheyton, owned by Dave Taylor, being admired by crowds at the recent Pebble Beach Concord d'Elegance, will be on display at the Charity Bazaar and Flea Market to be held at the 17-Mile Village in Pacific Grove on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28-29. This flea market is undoubtedly the only one in the world that has ever offered two Rolls Royce Bentleys. A 1957 S-1 and a 1956 "R" Type Semi Razor Edge Sun Roof Sedan will be on sale.

Bentleys Sold at Flea Market?

Where but on the Monterey Peninsula could you see one of the world's most valuable automobiles on display at the local flea market (a burdgeoning phenomenon of the American psyche), and be offered two other Rolls Royce Bentley's for sale?

All while munching on succculent barbequed ribs?

The Charity Antique Bazaar and Flea Market will feature these attractions to be held at the 17 Mile Village in Pacific Grove on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28-29.

Two elegant cars, both in excellent running condition, together with a great selection of antiques and objects of art from all over the state, even some from Nevada, will go on sale at 8 a.m. and remain until 5 p.m. both days or until sold.

Dolls, bottles, glass art, porcelain and myriad other items—old and not so old—will go on sale.

The Beacon House of Pacific Grove, under the direction of Frank Adams, will sponsor and cook a steak and rib barbeque, with hot dogs for the kiddies, under the supervision of John La'Pe, chef of the Village Restaurant.

Pacific Grove Youth, Senior Citizens, Mentally Retarded and both Boy and Girl Scouts are among the charities that will benefit from the bazaar.

Free space is still available at the Village for recognized church or charitable organizations who wish to hold rummage or fund raising sales, and for a small fee, anyone wishing to conduct a high-class garage sale can rent a booth.

Call 373-2721 for further information.

Sierra Club Shows Washington Slides

The North Cascades of Washington will be the principal subject of discussion at the September meeting of the Conservation Committee, Sierra Club, Ventant Chapter.

John Woolfenden will show slides of these spectacular mountains taken by him and his son. Congress is on the verge of establishing a national park in this area.

The meeeting, to which the public is invited at no charge, will also provide a forum for discussion of local conservation matters including Crespi Pond and coastal exploration for oil.

Date—Thursday, Sept. 26—at 7:30 p.m.—Brey Hall, Carmel high school.

Angels To Discuss Angles At The Circle Tonight.

The widely heralded Party for Angels, an invitational affair for donors to the Monterey Peninsula Community Theatre, will be held this evening in the Circle Theater, promising rare emotional variety to all concerned. Guests will be greeted by Board of Directors president, Richard Bragg; chairman of the evening. Mrs. Hans von Richter and her assistant chairman, Mrs. Jane Edson Parker.

Following the buffet supper to be served at 7:15 o'clock. "Angles for Angels" will be discussed during a question and answer period.

The Circle Theatre, home of the Monterey Peninsula Community Theatre and the Golden Bough Players, is known where-ever in the world there are theater-buff travelers who have visited Carmel. The Players, organized nearly half a century ago by the great late Edward Gerhardt Kuster, have, through the years, increased in number, changed in personnel. The spirit and enthusiasm of these volunteers, many of them widely acclaimed professional actors, actresses and directors, has never wavered. But backstage and on-stage volunteers, here in Carmel or in any part of the nation, cannot do the whole job.

Carmel's Circle Theater, no longer a teen-ager has, as any glamorous lady might, faded and frayed a bit because of lack of refurbishing. A non-profit organization, dependent upon public support and box office, the up-keep of the Circle has become a critical problem. Its support has been left to the few, too few. "If live theatre, with the traditions of more than a quarter of a century its history, is to survive—Angels must fly to our assistance"—so states Mr. Bragg.

Itemized lists of what is needed in and about the theater will be given tonight's party guests and as a reward for their support, moral and material, guests will be presented with a scoop preview of the sophisticated comedy "Ready When You Are, C.B." produced under the direction of Roy Baxter and scheduled to open tomorrow night for week - end performances through October and early November.

Lions 'White Cane' Days Sept. 27-28

The Monterey Bay Lions Clubs will hold their annual charity drive for the blind on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 and 28, according to James E. Cody, publicity chairman.

Carmel Lions Club president Ronald M. Roberts said that funds raised by the club in its annual drive go to such organizations as the Lions Eye Foundation, Inc., Guided Dogs for the Blind, Inc., Monterey Peninsula Braille Training and Transcribing Agency and donations of illuminated white canes for blind.

Since its beginning in 1951, the Lions "White Cane Days" have raised more than $3½ million for the visually handicaped, and both Cody and Roberts have urged the acquisition of a white cane to further support the Lions' help for the blind.

LOGIC—All Norwegians are blondes. All Norwegians ski. All blondes are beautiful. Therefore, all Norwegians are blonde, beautiful skiers. While the logic may be open to some slight question, there's no question that the two blonde, Norwegian skiers in the picture are both cute and beautiful. They're plugging Hjordis Kittel Parker's film on Norway coming to the Sunset Auditorium on Oct. 5.

Explorers Club Begins New Season at Sunset Oct. 5

The Explorers Club of San Francisco has announced its 1968 Explorerama series of professionally produced, feature-length, color, travel-adventure films.

The popular series will again be presented at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel with world famous career photographers and explorers narrating the programs in person.

Hjordis Kittel Parker will appear in person at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 5 with her film "Norse Adventure" as the opening event of the series. The film tells the advenurous history of Norway from the Viking period to the present time. Highlights include views of Oslo, Telemark, Spitzbergen, near the North Pole, Trondheim, the opening of Parliament with King Olav V, the International Music Festival at Bergen, a perilous and exciting mountain climbing sequence, and the colorful Laplanders.

Explorer Ronald Shanin will narrate his documentary "Rivers Of Fire And Ice" on Thursday, Oct. 24.

Shanin spent 5½ years in Africa in the production of the film which is reported to have the most graphic wild animal scenes ever shot. It was filmed in South Africa, The Congo, Kenya, Rhodesia, Zambia, and Tanzania.

National Geographich photographer Captain Irving Jhonson will narrate "Yankee Sails The Nile" on Nov. 6.

Johnson's ketch "Yankee" was the last foreign vessel to sail above Aswan before the opening of the new High Dam. "Austria In Four Seasons" and award winning production will be narrated in person by Willis Butler on November 23rd. Russ Potter will narrate "Valley Of The Rhine" to close the series on December 7th.

All seats for the series are reserved and tickets are now available at Central Box Office, Mission at 6th in Carmel, phone 624-6739 and at Abinate Music Store, 425 Alvarado in Monterey, phone: 372-5893.

Prenatal Film

"The Story of a Birth," a prenatal film featuring Dr. John S. Miller, noted exponent of prenatal care and natural childbirth, will be shown Friday, Sept. 27th at 8 p.m. in the Monterey Library Community Room.

The public is invited at no charge and refreshments will be served. Members of the Childbirth Education League will be available to answer questions.

The League is also sponsoring a series of prenatal classes instructing in prenatal exercises, diet during pregnancy, labor, delivery, breast feeding and the father's role in natural childbirth. Mrs. Margot Edwards, R.N., will lead the eight sessions to be given weekly beginning Wednesday, Oct. 2nd. Interested couples should contact Mrs. Robert Armstead, 624-8718.

In the spring of 1968, painted lady butterflies made their eighth major California migration since 1895 and for the first time San Francisco was in their flight path.

'Northern Safari' Amazing Australian Travel Film

By AUSTIN CONOVER

"Nortnern Safari" is an extraordinary color motion picture about a six-month, 9,000-mile auto trip through the western half of Australia.

There's a folksy quality about the travelog made by Keith Adams, his wife Audrey and sister Margaret. They show their home in Perth and its front lawn cluttered with items to be packed in their 1948 Buick sedan and trailer with upturned dinghy, which was hauled across the continent for use on the Gulf of Carpentaria midway in their journey.

The "star" of the film is "Tiger Adams," their fox terrier, who watches the road from the front seat as they drive along (of course, on the left side in British fashion), retrieves game shot for dinner and boldly dashes to confront wildlife many times his size.

Keith, Audrey and Margaret take turns with the 16mm camera. Though they claim no special schooling in photography, some of their shots—particularly the ones made through the telescopic lenses — are exceptionally vivid. This brightens what might otherwise be a monotonous crossing of the Great Victoria Desert.

An impressive feature is the amount of scientific information in the film. Though Keith Adams is by trade an automotive and constructional engineer, he has packed the two and three-quarter hour show with enough facts to qualify him for a Ph.D in geology, biology and anthropology.

One of the most absorbing is the sequence of three aborigines spear fishing from a primitive wooden canoe, which is powered by a crude makeshift sail. The fish and turtles they catch are too big to be hauled into the boat and consequently have to be towed ashore. Incidentally, Australias aborigines are among the most primitive people in the world and close to the Stone Age.

The antics of a dragon lizard that runs on his hindlegs provides humor; and there is drama, too, such as when the Buick, fitted out with a 6-cylinder diesel engine, becomes mired during a river crossing. Keith Adams fashions a winch with logs and wire; and the car and trailer are saved.

Though "Northern Safari" was filmed a few years ago and brought to the U.S. now as a result of its big reception in Australia, there is a timeless quality about it. It's adventure with nature in a little known section of a continent that is today much like America's Pacific Southwest was 100 years ago.

"Northern Safari" will be shown at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 and 28 at 8 p.m. Tickets will be on sale at the door only.

Carmel Travelers

Edinburgh Incident

(Letter from Ruth Goddard Bixler)

I had a most enchanting week in Edinburg and surrounding area. We saw the Castle Fortress, Holyrood, King Arthur's Seat and St. Giles.

We were given tickets to the dress rehearsal of the Royal Review in Holyrood Park, presented for the first time since Queen Victoria. I was thrilled to see hundreds of soldiers in kilts and hundreds more of the Queen's Guards in tall fur hats and red uniforms.

Edinburg, with its Firth of Forth and suspension bridge reminded me somewhat of San Francicso.

Queen's Town was really the kind of place that is an artist's paradise. We stopped at Hawes Inn which was a favorite haunt of our own Robert Louis Stevenson, who was, after all, born in Edinburg.

I rode to London with a Hungarian engineer, and a wild ride it was. We stopped in Nottingham for dinner, and I was reminded that this is the town where Metz Durham, who used to live in Carmel, is now sheriff.

Spent the night in London, and the next day, which was hot indeed, I flew to beautiful Geneva, where I spent four lovely days sightseeing before taking a boat from Geneva to Montrieux. From Montrieux to Gstaad on a quaint Swiss train, arriving in a real mountain storm and downpour.

Phyllis Calley of Carmel is here in Gstaad, and dozens of friends and acquaintenances from Ojai and other parts of the world. All have come to hear the Krishnamurti talks.

After a week of rather damp overcast days it has turned bright and sunny again. Saturday I tok a boat from Montrieux to the Castle of Chillon which Byron has so immortalized. I found it a most fascinating and exciting place and one of the most intriguing castles which I have seen.

In August I go to Florence for a week, then to Sicily and the Holy Land where the Baha' is holding a conference and where there will be other friends from the Monterey Peninsula.

With sincere greetings
Ruth Goddard Bixler

Sept. Exhibit At Art Museum

Each month a fresh and diversified group of paintings and sculpture is presented in the Main Gallery of the Carmel Art Association. Ultra traditional contrasts with ultra modern with all the in-between variations from which the viewers may select.

Charles Thomas' "Summer Pinks" is a happy combination of subtle pinks and blues massed in occult balance. John La Pierre achieves the extraordinary effect of a painting in his colorful collage "Market in Mexico." In "Miracle of the Loaves and Fishes" Marlinde von Ruhs imparts a veritable hurricane of color and action.

A well balanced design done in contrasting luminous and earthy colors by Elise de Celles Beaton is aptly named "Mission Mosaic." This painting received honorable mention in the recent Religious Art Show at the Church of the Wayfarer.

Robert Davey's whimsical bird-friend Edwin is seen in yet another pose, this time "My Bird Edwin and the Moth."

The "Red Boat" by Jerry Wasserman, a strong composition done in warm Mediterranean colors communicates the feeling and warmth of the locale.

Mr. Wasserman's versatility is further shown in a charming piece of sculpture "Mother and Child."

The Marjorie Allen Memorial Exhibition, previously reported, continues in the Beardsley Room. Next month's one man show will feature Walter Landaker.

Carmelites Serve At Valyermo Festival

Mr. and Mesdames Stanley Spohn and Louisa Jenkins, all of Carmel, are serving as committee chairmen for the 11th annual Valyermo Fall Festival, to be held on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28th and 29th, at St. Andrew's Priory in Valyermo, Los Angeles County.

The two-day event, staged by the Benedictine monks on their 450-acre ranch-monastery grounds, will feature a production of "St. Joan" by the Alpha-Omega Players repertory company, a contemporary liturgical art exhibit, an authentic Indian Village and a "Dance '68" outdoor dramatic-narrative presentation.

Among other attractions will be seven restaurants with international menus, games, rides, midway, do-it-yourself workshops, gift and book booths, pottery-making exhibits, ecumenical displays, flea market, puppet shows, pony rides and other traditional attributes of a festival in the country.

Teen-agers will paint what is hoped will be the world's largest mural when southern California high school groups will fill a series of 4x8-foot panels with pictorial messages of themes important to today's younger generation.

More than 600 volunteers assist the monks in staging the festival, which has grown in significance as an outstanding September calendar event. St. Andrew's is easily reacsed my major freeways, and gats on both Saturday and Sunday will open at 10:00 a.m.

New MPC Art Building Set

Preliminary plans for the expansion of Monterey Peninsula College's art and music buildings were approved by the MPC board of trustees at its regular September meeting.

The plans, as explained by Fred Keeble of Keeble & Rhoda, campus architects, call for a choral room, an extra studio, robe storage room, large classroom and music library in a building adjacent to the existing music complex.

The art addition will contain two north-lighted studios, a classroom, a performing arts divisional center, a two-man office, a storage area for slides and an open workspace for glass sculpture. Remodeling of the present quarters will permit the kiln used in ceramics classes to remain in its present location. There will also be an exterior "art court" for sculpture.

Construction will be financed with the assistance of $75,000 in federal funds.

The poodle, an intelligent dog and a good hunter and retriever, has been known in history for almost 2,000 years.

L. to R. Sacramento guests: Mrs. Walter Chase, Mrs. John McGinnis and Mrs. LaRue Travellie. Hostess Jewel White and Mrs. R. F. Taylor, Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Welcome Wagon Greets Officers

Members of the Carmel chapter of the Welcome Wagon held a dessert bridge at the home of Jewel White, Lincoln at 10th. Honored guests for the happy event were officers of the Sacramento chapter, to which Jewel belonged and served as president in 1966-67.

She had attended a similar party in Sacramento recently, and felt that ALL of the members learned something of value in the interchange of ideas with members of other cities. These visiting ladies were: Mrs. LaRue Travaillie, Mrs. Walter Chase and Mrs. John McGinnis.

Local members present were: MDMS. R. F. Taylor Wayne Sewell, Thomas Cox, Morton Keller, Kenneth Ward, Robert Lang, M. Lauerman, Wm. J. Miemi, Julian Rowe, and Mrs. Dorothy Gonzenbach, Cora Dunkel, Myrtle Stoddard and Jewel White.

Prizes at bridge were won by MDMS Taylor, Travellie, and Gonzenbach.

Several informal parties were given for Mdms Travaillie, Chase and McGinnis, a luncheon at the Pine Inn and a dinner party at June Simpson's. They were deeply impressed with Carmel in a mutual love-at-first-sight way and call us their Little Sisters By The Sea. We hope they will return soon and add even more color and gaiety to our meetings.

CHS Students Semifinalists

Principal Arthur J. Gumbrell at Carmel High School has announced that Mark Engstrom and Antony Tersol have been named Semifinalists in the 1968-69 National Merit Scholarship Program.

The 15,000 Semifinalists are among the nation's most intellectually able high school seniors and will compete for some 3,000 Merit Scholarships in 1969.

Tiny Traveler

Born in Los Gatos, August 28, Brent Gingery the son of Robert and Carla Budd Gingery is already a seasoned traveler. For the past week he, with his mother, has been visiting his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Dell Budd, of Carmel . . . Carla, who was born in Honolulu where her father, the late Paul Budd was on military duty, was brought to Carmel by her parents at an early age. She attended Sunset School and Carmel High School and upon graduation spent a year in Europe with her mother and younger sister.

Morton Birthday

That through the years birthdays are for remembering proved a happy truth for singer and vocal teacher Rachel Morton of Carmel Valley.

Miss Morton's recent birthday was celebrated last week in her home "Valhalla" when former pupils arrived from far and wide, a number of guests traveling from Long Beach.

Before coming to the United States from England Miss Morton was a member of the Covent Garden Grand Opera Company.

Former vocal students of Miss Morton's from Carmel who joined in the birthday party singing included: Carmel's former mayor, Eben Whittlesey; Ruth Williams, Barbara Clark, Lenore Woolams and Joy Wilkerson

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Peter Meckel

With the completion of the Samuel F. B. Morse Fine Arts Center, RLS is inaugurating a vastly improved and expanded program in the arts.

The magnificient new building contains a large music ensemble room, six practice rooms, a 100-seat little theater, and an art display gallery centered around an impressive stone fireplace.

A publications workroom, a photography darkroom, an art studio, and an apartment for the artist-in-residence complete the structure.

The Fine Arts Center will provide space for classes in music history, art history, anthropology, drama, and journalism. It is expected that the new programs will be an excellent contribution to the cultural growth of the students and a significant addition to the arts activities of the Monterey Peninsula.

A key figure in molding the new music curriculum is Larry A. Christiansen. Christiansen received a bachelor of music with honors from Ohio Wesleyan University and completed his master of music at Northwestern University.

A prolific composer (more than 50 opus numbers), his compositions have been performed by the Chicago Chamber Orchestra, chamber ensembles at the University of Illinois and Northwestern University, and by numerous choirs throughout the country.

Twelve of his compositions are published and an article, "20th Centry Choral Composition" has been published in The Choral Journal. He is a member of the American Society of University Composers, the American Musicological Society, and the American Choral Directors Association.

The whaling industry was largely responsible for American interest in California and for taking it from Mexico.

Who's New

"You can't just pick up and go to California!" protested friends of Dr. and Mrs. John J. D'Attilio in their former home town, Rutherford, N. J.

But this month they did.

Dr. D'Attilio, an ophthalmologist, had liked Carmel since his earlier residency at Ft. Ord. Last week he opened an office in Monterey.

He is living in Hatton Fields with his wife, Connie, and their children, Beverly, a River School third grader, and Jonathan, two months.

Also familiar with Carmel before their move here this month from Woodside are Robert and Barbara Lutz. Mrs. Lutz' father, Joseph Costa, is a 30-year resident.

Mr. Lutz is with Dick Searle Appliances in Seaside. Mrs. Lutz is managing Derek Rayne's Country Shop. Her son, Scott Simpson, is a member of the household only until he enters military service soon.

Another new Villiage resident with local family is Mrs. Marion Keller whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mendenhall of Pacific Grove.

Recently widowed, Mrs. Keller came here from Danville. She has purchased a small restaurant in Monterey in which she plans to take an active part. Her son John Zanotti and his wife live in San Bruno with three-month-old daughtr Lisan.

New to Carmel but not to the area are Mr. L. E. McCurry, principal of River School, and his wife Marilyn, who does free-lance art work. With their three childrn, they moved to Carmel Views from Carmel Valley.

Jean Takes to Air

Mrs. Jean Ireland McGill, a Carmel resident for the past four years who has won wide popularity for her appearances in Circle Theatre productions, will fly to New York City on Monday for a month of theatre-going.

A retired professional, Jean has appeared on Broadway and in cross country tours, in light opera and in musical comedy. Since coming to Carmel she has been called upon to make T.V. appearances and has been heard on radio.

While in New York Jean will be the guest of her daughter, Miss Carol McGill of Jamaica Estates.

Treasures Wanted

MPVS-Pink Lady Bazaar will be held Oct. 22 in the Exhibition Hall of the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

The one-day event sponsored by Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services and the Auxiliary of Community Hospital is a benefit for the hospital.

Persons with next-to-new items and antique-type treasures who would like to contribute them for salt at the Bazaar are invited to call Lois Robinson, 659-2538, or Polly Parks, 624-4163, and they will arrange for transportation.

Dell Harthorn . . . Ninety-five Years Young

by Jinny Drew

Hosts of friends, shoals of messages and telephone calls of congratulation greeted Carmel's Dell Harthorn in his ninety-fifth birthday.

Mr. Harthorn's stories of his brithplace, Vermillion, South Dakota, where his father owned and ran the general store, and of the Indian raids that livened up his childhood put today's Gunsmoke scenarios to shame.

During his teens the Harthorn family moved to Long Beach and at the tender age of nineteen Dell wooed and married Miss Shellie Cotton.

As the children arrived the family often traveled to Monterey Peninsula to visit Grandma (Shellie's mother).

In 1903, having decided that eventually Carmel would be their future home, Dell bought land in the southern part of town. This property had been surveyed and staked out, but was reached only by path from the center of town. Here the whole family camped out whenever they visited Carmel.

In 1918, Mr. Harthorn sold his piano store in Long Beach and moved his family to their campsite in Carmel where they camped until he completed the house on the southeast corner of their lot. The structure sheltered the family adequately until "the main house" was built next door.

This main house still stands surrounded by a high chalk wall — all of which Dell built, at the northeast corner of 12th and Mission.

Soon streets were put in that part of town, and the Harthorn's property was then surrounded by Junipero, 12th, Mission and 11th. In a few years, there was a house on each lot, and Mr. Harthorn built every one himself, except for plumbing and electrical work.

In the following years he built other houses retiring at the age of 76.

From 1946 until 1962, Mr. Harthorn enjoyed his retirement, living in his home on Carpenter Street cared for by his nurse-companion, Mrs. Susan Shaw, who had nursed Mrs. Harthorn during the illness that preceded her death in 1954.

He walked down the hill to the post office every day, and back again. He continued to drive his car until he reached the age of 92.

In 1962, when Mr. and Mrs. John Zack bought his neighboring Carmel Cottages, Mr. Harthorn volunteered to keep their flowers watered, spending three or four hours a day at this job. The Zacks learned that he had never, in all the years he had worked, made himself eligible for Social Security. So the Zacks put him on their payroll, and after the required time of one and one half years had elapsed, he was eligible for a monthly Social Security check which he will get for the rest of his life. Of his four children: Terrill lives in Pacific Grove, Mrs. Zanetta Files in San Diego, Mrs. Teo Quinn in San Pablo: the oldest, Laurence, died in 1963. He has 8 grandchildren, 18 great grandchildren, and four great great grandchildren.

Dell Harthorn

In the early days of Carmel ,the house car which Dell built was a familiar sight. To his knowledge, his was the first housecar built in California, the forerunner of today's trailers. It was self contained with its own bathroom and kitchen. He and his son formed the first company in the state to build housecars commercially.

Mr. and Mrs. David Eric Harber

David Harber Wed

The wedding of David Eric Harber of Carmel to Carol Ann Carnazzo of Monterey took place recently at San Carlos Cathedral.

David is the son of Mrs. Floyd Harber of Carmel and the late Mr. Harber, and the brother of Mrs. Clarence C. (Louise) Townely of Santa Rosa who was present. His uncle, Nels Edquist, who went through Carmel schools, brought his family from Fresno.

Carol, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Carnazzo of Monterey, chose a traditional ivory satin organza gown with jewel neckline and long sleeves. She wore a long veil and carried a nosegay of white roses, carnations and stephanotis.

Carol's sister Gigi was her maid of honor and her other attendants included Sproutie Garin and Beverly Bray of Carmel.

Art Horning of Pebble Beach served as best man. Ushers included his brothers Arthur and Victor Harber of Carmel Valley, his brother-in-law Clarence Townley, Clayton Hilbert of Carmel and Mike Cole of Pacific Grove.

A combo played for dancing at the reception held in El Prado room of the Naval Postgraduate School.

The couple will make their home in Fresno where they are both attending Fresno State.

Around the World

Various friends of Mrs. Wallace (Claudine) Foster of Flanders Drive and her daughter Patricia Edgerton who has been teaching English at Foothill College, have been entertaining them preparatory to their departure on the 27th for a trip around the world.

BOAC will deposit them in Hawaii for overnight and then take them to Japan. They hope to find a cargo boat which will take them to South Korea, Formosa, but in any case they will visit Hong Kong, the ruins at Angkorwat, Thailand and Cambodia.

From there they will take a boat to Singapore and Ceylon by way of Java. Patricia plans to stay in Ceylon and then go on to Africa.

Her mother wants to explore the Middle East and then return to New York City by way of Spain and Portugal.

To Honor Composer

Concert pianist Gilbert Boyer and Mrs. Boyer will be among the guests at the luncheon to be held in Jack London Square, Oakland, on Saturday, honoring the celebrated American composer, Gunther Schuller. President of the New England Conservatory, Mr. Schuller won critical acclaim as a conductor as well as composer during his recent platform appearances in Munich and Paris.

AAUW Tea

A membership tea for prospective members of the American Association of University Women, Monterey Peninsula Branch, was held at the Casa Estrada in Monterey.

Mrs. Everell Bibb of Carmel is president this year. Eligible college graduates are invited to call AAUW membership chairman, Mrs. Allan Craig at 372-0733 for further information.

Last Call For Local Writers

Monterey Peninsula writers who have not forwarded bibliographical and biographical information to the Santa Cruz library for inclusion in the local author list it is compiling are urged to do so as soon as possible.

Although the library plans this project on a continuing basis, it is anxious to have as much information as possible compiled for display at the Santa Cruz County Fair, Sept. 25 through 29.

All writers, or friends of writers who may be bashful, are requested to write the References Desk, Santa Cruz Public Library, 224 Church St., Santa Cruz 95060, or phone 423-6210.

Information needed includes titles, publishers and publication dates or names and dates of periodicals in which the author's efforts have been published, and any pertinent biographical data.

'Ready C.B.' Opens At Circle

The Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula will have the gala opening of its new theatre season on Friday, Sept. 27th, when Susan Slade's rib-tickling new comedy, "Ready When You Are, C.B.!" opens at the Circle Theatre in Carmel.

The opening night audience will also be introduced to new bright cheerful surroundings in Carmel's unique arena theatre. During the past three weeks, the theatre has been dark while workmen and volunteers have completely renovated and redecorated the theatre.

The starring role of the stage-struck young landlady, Annie, will be played by Carolyn Adolphine Evans.

Miss Evans, who has been on a scholarship with the advanced training congress at A.C.T. in San Francisco, returned to Carmel specifically to play this role. She, like the heroine in the play, plans a professional career in the theatre.

Bob Lotz, who has had 15 years of professional experience in the legitimate theatre, television and radio, and a veteran of countless little theatre presentations, will lend his comedic talent to the role of Jonas Jordan, a mag netic movie idol. Bob was last seen at the Circle Theatre as Milt Manville in "Luv".

"Felicia," the first lady of the American theatre, who enjoys wearing outlandish eccentric costumes for streetwear, will be played by Gloria Z. Wheelr.

This is Gloria's third play at the Circle, having played in "A Delicate Balance" last spring, and most recently the lady blackmailer in "Seven Keys To Baldpate."

Providing much of the fun in this delightful comedy is talented Ginna Bell Beaven, who portrays "Fran," a beautiful model and Annie's best friend. Miss Beaven, who is the founder of the "Teen Thalians" in Akron, Ohio, has appeared in many local little theatre productions.

Emily Ford Leonard will be featured as "Sadie," the bombastic chiding mother of her son, the movie star. Mrs. Leonard recently appeared in several productions at the Circle Star Theatre in San Carlos.

"Ready When You Are, C.B.!" under the direction of Roy Baxter, is scheduled for a five-week run playing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8:30. Reservations and group discount bookings may be made by calling the theatre box office at 624-2669.

Bank of America Forms New Unit

The Bank of America has announced that it will form a "one -bank holding company" in order to increase the potential of the organization.

The plan was approved by the bank's board of directors earlier this month, and the stockholders will vote on the proposed holding company at the annual meeting in February of next year.

R. A. Peterson, president of the Bank of America, says that he expects an overwhelming majority of the stockholders will be in favor of the plan, since it will provide the means for a more diversified range of activities and greater participation in a number of profitable businesses.

"A holding company enhances our ability to use our know-how and facilities for handling all kinds of financing, management of investments and other related activities which are logically complementary to the banking business," Peterson said.

As to regulatory authorities, he indicated that the bank expects little difficulty in securing approval because there are no negative competitive factors involved. The Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Department of Justice, and the Internal Revenue Service must be consulted.

Under the Bank Holding Company Act, a holding company which acquires more than one bank is prohibited from engaging in other types of business. This restriction is not applicable to the holding company which owns or acquires a single bank. In recent years, many banks have looked at this exception as a means of increasing the flexibility of their operations.

Robert Tate Named First Carmel City Forester

The City Council employed Carmel's first full-time professional forester at last week's meeting. His name is Robert L. Tate, and he's a 1966 graduate of the University of California, from which he holds the degree of bachelor of science in forestry.

When Carmel 10 years ago created what may have been the first city forestry commission in the state, the hope was expressed that eventually a professionally trained forester could be employed to supervise the care and maintenance of Carmel's unique city-wide forest environment.

Last year budgetary authority for the employment of a city forester was provided, and word was conveyed in professional journals that the city planned to employ a staff forester.

"About 15 applicants were considered at one time or another," said City Administrator Hugh Bayless, "and eventually the committee which screened applicants, selected Robert Tate as their preferred candidate for the position."

The designation of the new position is that of forestry foreman in the city's public works department, which is headed by William Askew. The committee which selected Tate was composed of Councilman Herb Blanks and Frank Falge, in addition to Bayless and Askew, and Hugh Smith, who has served the city as part-time city forester until a full-time position could be filled.

Tate has worked as a staff assistant forester for the Weyerhaeuser Lumber Co. at Chehalis, Wash., and for Varian Associates in Palo Alto. While in the Varian organization, he did research work on the effect of microwave radiation in seed germination.

Tate is a native Californian, having been born and brought up in the town of Weed. He served a "hitch" in the U.S. Navy where he was a sonar man, and has thus completed his military obligation. Tate is married. The couple have no children.

Hugh Smith, who was a member of the selection committee which nominated Tate for his new position, and who is himself a professional forester of long experience, believes that Tate understands Carmel's long-standing fondness for, and commitment to, its treasured city forest, and that he will give it the special care and attention which the city seeks. —Gunnar Norberg

PWP's Meet

Emily Trapp, widely noted for her provocative articles and observations loaded with hints and tips about social relationships in the world of single people, will give her sometimes controversial views on being single at the general meeting of the Parents Without Partners tomorrow night at the Mark Thomas Inn beginning at 8 .m.

Mrs. Trapp, a UCLA graduate, lives in San Diego where her articles for singles appear regularly in the San Diego Evening Tribune. Divorced and the mother of two, she is founder and president of the Clubs for Single People. She is a member of PWP. Her book "A Single Point of View" is available through singles' clubs.

She will attend the two-day conference of all California singles' clubs in Monterey on Sept. 28 and 29.

Parents Without Partners is an international organization devoted to the welfare of single parents. Its activities include lectures, discussions, family outings and other educational, recreational and social events planned for members and their children.

The public is invited to the meeting Sept. 27, which will be followed by a social hour during which interested parties may learn more about the aims and activities of PWP. Additional information may be obtained by calling 373-2795.

Youth Symphony

Musically talented youngsters of Monterey County will have an opportunity to display their ability on Saturday, Sept. 28, when auditions and rehearsals for the Monterey County Symphony Youth Orchestra will be conducted in the Music Building of Fremont Junior High School in Seaside.

Auditions for new members only begin at 9:15 a.m. with the rehearsal following at 10 a.m.

Young musicians who wish to join the Youth Orchestra must be prepared to play at least one musical piece for new conductor Haymo Taeuber, who said, "My aim is to work with our young people and help to develop future musicians for the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. We are planning special concerts this season and will continue the annual two-day tour of Monterey County playing at elementary schools in outlying areas."

During the last five years, more than 20 members of the Youth Orchestra have had an opportunity to play with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. They have won numerous musical scholarships, and many have continued playing and are well on their way to becom-professional musicians.

The Monterey County Symphony Youth Orchestra will rehearse two or three times a month on Saturday mornings at different schools throughout Monterey County. Applications for membership can be obtained from music supervisors in the various schools or by calling the Monterey County Symphony Association office at 624-4125.

Robison Presents Saber To Infantry

Col. J. Shelburn Robison (USA ret), of Carmel, who commanded the artillery battery at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in 1921, returned to Arlington Cemetery Sept. 19 to present the saber he used to the Army unit that now guards the Tomb.

Col. Shelburn gave the commands for the 21-gun salute that marked the interrment of the Unknown Soldier from World War I.

The saber he used to signal the firing battery was presented to Lt. James Shoesmith Jr., leader of the Tomb Guard platoon of the 1st. Battalion, 3rd Infantry stationed at Ft. Meyer, Va.

Col. Robison, now 74, then a captain, commanded Battery E, 3rd Field Artillery, which was chosen over two other batteries stationed at Fort Myer to provide the caisson and fire the gun salute in the November 11, 1921 ceremony.

After President Harding delivered an address and dignitaries laid wreaths on the casket, Col. Robison gave the command "Battery salvo right, commence fire!" and lowered his saber. His sergeant held 21 pebbles in his left hand, and as each round was fired he dropped a pebble to the ground. When the last pebble was dropped the firing ceased, and the ceremony was over.

The 3rd Infantry is the Army's crack ceremonial unit. Commanded by Col. Robert M. Daugherty, it represents the Army in ceremonies in the Nation's Capital and at Arlington Cemetery, where it provides a round-the-clock guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The Old Guard is the only active Army unit that still routinely uses sabers.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY LESSON

"And Abram said unto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen, for we be brethern."

This verse from the Book of Genesis is part of the Lesson-Sermon titled "Reality" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Related passages from the denominational textbook also will be read. Among these will be the following: "ABRAHAM. Fidelity; faith in the divine Life and in the eternal Principle of being" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Confrontations Theme of World Affairs Council

The World Affairs Council, in cooperation with the Carmel Adult School, will present four outstanding programs this fall for its members and the public.

All programs will conform with the theme "Confrontations of 1968." and will be held at 8 p.m. in Brey Hall, Carmel high school.

On Friday, Oct. 4, Dr. Paul Zinner will discuss "Soviet Blocking of Czech Liberalization." Dr. Zinner is head of the Departmetn of Political Science on the Davis campus of the University of California. He is well known to northern Californians as a panelist on KQED's program "World Press."

Dr. Zinner was in Bucharest and Vienna precisely when Czech soveriegnty was being violated, and while there he had a unique opportunity to talk with Czechs and other East Europeans.

On Friday, Nov. 1, S. Marshall Kempner will present his views on "The Causes and Consequences of Turbulence in France."

Kempner is a prominent San Francisco executive and chairman of Business Friends of France, a member of the Board of Trustees of the World Affairs Council of Northern California and is associated with many other private and governmental efforts. He will speak as an individual businessman with the perspective of long personal connections with France. He was in Paris immediately after the elections which resulted in an overwhelming Gaullist victory and gave President DeGaulle a breathing space for assessing what had taken place.

Dec. 6, Friday, 8 p.m., Brey Hall, Carmel High School. Subject and speaker to be announced.

On Friday, Jan. 17, 1969, at Brey Hall Carmel High School, Prof. Claude Buss, of Stanford University, will speak on Southeast Asia, an area of obvious and continuous confrontation. Prof. Buss is favorably known in this community. He will convey his observations based on the visit he is planning to Southeast Asia.

All of the above programs are pertinent to present moments in history. All are open to the public at no cost.

In addition to the above programs, the Council has announced the following 12:00 noon luncheon meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 16, at the La Playa Hotel Subject: "Gold and the Dollar," Speaker: J. Howard Craven vice-president of the Federal Reserve Bank, San Francisco.

Craven will discuss the background of the United States gold position, the speculative pressures leading up to the gold crisis of early March, and the solution reached shortly thereafter at the Washington meeting of monetary authorities. Reservations are necessary and must be made not later than Monday, Oct. 14, by telephoning Mrs. Wm. Ballard, 624-8134 or Mrs. Frederick Jandrey, 624-9326.

Community Church Youth Program

Sunday, Sept. 29 is Youth Day at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula, and Monterey Municipal Judge Eugene Harrah will speak to the congregation on "Of This Generation."

An additional attraction will be the performance of Catherine Saake of Ikthys on the organ for part of the service.

Everyone is most cordially invited to this especially significant program.

CCMP Organist Starts Oct. 1

The Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula has announced a change in organists as of Oct. 1.

Leaving at that time will be the organist-secretary hired last year, Mrs. Kenneth (Jan) Smock. Mrs. Smock, who has filled the dual role with both efficiency and talent, will be returning to stay with her parents in Lawrence, Kansas, while her husband, who has been a student at the Defense Language Institute, is on assignment overseas.

Replacing Mrs. Smock as organist will be Warren Coker, who served for a time as interim organist at the church. Coker has been acting as chaplain's assistant at Fort Ord and has received permission to serve the Community Church in the capacity of organist. He was graduated from Westminster Choir College at Princeton, and did graduate work at Temple Univeristy. Following his graduation, he served as organist for the Woodland Church in Philadelphia and at the First Baptist Church in Wilmington, N.C.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

The title of next Sunday's program in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You" is "Making Right Decisions on the Job." It will be broadcast over stations KGO at 7:15 a.m. and KRML at 7:45 a.m. This program presents a practical example of how many business men have found a sound spiritual basis for wise decisions and right action.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Tea-time Is Here Again"

Brisk Americans are prone to regard the British tea ceremony as a waste of time when our coffee break can do the job. But how welcome on a cool autumn day is a cup of well-brewed tea poured steaming from its china pot. With committee meetings in order the afternoon tea has resumed its rightful place at this season.

Early Californians followed the Spanish precedent of lovely meriendas (tea parties) as a most charming custom. The tea table was a joy to behold, displaying one's best lace or linen cloth, porcelain and tea service. Combine tastefulness with warmth and guests who arrive as near strangers may become lifelong friends.

And what do we have for our tea table? First the tea, made as you prefer it with sugar cubes, sliced lemon and milk, plus extra boiling water, for individual tastes. Then there must be thinly sliced bread spread with various mixtures which we'll tell about.

The English also include hot breads and buns, scones, muffins or crumpets toasted on forks. Tiered stands of teacakes, shortcakes and nutcakes, Madeira and sponge. Game pies, meat pies and fruit pies. Comb honey and treacle and jam. This is where we differ and instead of their "high teas," we simplify ours and offer at most three kinds of sandwiches, one type of cake, a few cookies and perhaps fresh ripe strawberries for our Fall tea table.

Ribbon Sandwiches

Use fresh or day-old bread. For each stack, alternate 3 slices wholewheat and 2 slices white bread, filling each with combined canned liver paste and cream cheese seasoned with chopped ripe olives, lemon juice and Tabasco to taste. Press firmly together each stack of slices. Now using sharp knife in sawing motion, slice off crusts from all slices. Arrange sandwiches in shallow pan; cover with waxed paper, Saran or aluminum foil. Refrigerate at least several hours. Cut into half-inch slices, then each slice into thirds, halves or 2 or 3 triangles.

Roll-Up Party Sandwiches

Trim crusts from thin fresh bread slices. Roll lightly with rolling pin. Spread each with softened sweet butter mixed with chopped watercress including spicy stems. Add small amount of lemon juice and paprika or Tabasco. Roll up and serve whole or cut in halves or thirds with a sprig of watercress, mint or parsley tucked in one or both ends if desired. Or you can put an asparagus tip or stuffed celery stalk across one end of whole slice and roll up. Cover with a lightly dampened cloth and refrigerate until serving time.

To toast a cheddar cheese roll up, place these on cookie sheet; brush with melted butter and broil until golden on all sides. Serve hot. These may be prepared in advance, wrapped in foil, frozen and broiled just before serving.

Other delicious spreads or fillings for sandwiches are: Chopped hard-cooked egg, plus minced anchovy fillets and mayonnaise. Minced turkey or chicken, plus cream cheese, seasonings, chopped nuts and celery. Avocado mashed with lemon juice, salt, paprika and chopped broiled bacon. Flaked tuna, shrimp, crabmeat or lobster, plus mayonnaise, lemon juice, snipped chives and grated onion.

Pink Diamond Petit Fours

One pkg. yellow cake mix; 1 14-oz. jar cranberry-orange relish; 1 pkg. vanilla buttercream frosting mix; red food coloring; flaked coconut. Makes 48 small cakes.

Prepare cake mix according to package directions. Pour batter into two buttered and floured 8-inch square pans; bake according to directions. Cool 10 minutes, remove from pan and cool well. Cut each cake into 2 layers and spread cranberry-orange relish between each layer. Prepare frosting according to package directions and tint pink with a few drops of red food coloring; spread over top of cake. Cut into small diamond shapes. Garnish each with flaked coconut. A bit of expertise is necessary but these are far less expensive, and really prettier, than bakery ones.

Large fresh strawberries, preferably with long stems are in a crystal bowl ready to be dipped into powdered sugar. Or you can beat the white of one egg until foamy for one pint of strawberries. Brush each whole dry berry with egg white and sprinkle lightly with granulated sugar. Leave stems or caps intact for more show. Dry on rack.

River Without A Mouth

The Mojave River, which runs along U. S. Highway 66, is a river without a mouth.

This strange river has its source in the springs and snow crevices of the San Bernardino Mountains and has no mouth since its waters are swallowed up in the sands of the desert.

We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends; we may live without books;
But civilized man can not live without cooks.
He may live without books,
what is knowledge but grieving?
He may live without hope, what is hope but deceiving?
He may live without love, what is passion but pining?
But where is the man that can live without dining?

Lord Harlech, M.P., Opens Lecture Series

A lecture by Lord Harlech, distinguished British diplomat and expert on international affairs, will open Monterey Peninsula College's fall evening lecture series Friday, Oct. 4, at 8 p.m. in the National Guard Armory on campus.

Lord Harlech will speak on "Great Decisions: 1969."

Now Deputy Leader of the Opposition in the House of Lords, Lord Harlech joined the Consultative Committee of the Leader of the Opposition (the Shadow Cabinet) in 1966.

British Ambassador to the United States from 1961 to 1965, he was well known in public life (before succeeding his father as the fifth baron in 1964) as Sir David Ormsby-Gore, member for 11 years of the House of Commons and for five years of the Conservative government.

Educated at Eton College, Oxford, Lord Harlech served during World War II with the Berkshire Yeomanry and the War Office. After the war he studied estate management and became managing director of the Brogyntyn Estate Company, running two dairy farms in Shropshire and breeding prize winning Shorthorn bulls.

Free tickets to the lecture are available at the MPC Community Services Office between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. daily. They may also be obtained by mail when request is accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. A special lecture series ticket book is also being offered this year to cover an entire season's lecture. This will be available at the college for a small "reservation" cost guaranteeing the buyer a reserved seat in a special front section at each lecture.

Other lecturers in the series will be by S. P. R. Charter, human ecologist, Oct. 11; William Penn Patrick, millionaire politician, Oct. 25; Stanley Kauffmann, critic, Nov. 8; and Art Hoppe, satirical columnist, Dec. 6.

Dick Burke is New Hearthstone Head

R. A. "Dick" Burke assumed the managership of the Mark Thomas Hearthstone in Carmel on Sept. 15.

Burke, born in Bakersfield, is a true native Californian. His ancestors settled in the San Gabriel Valley in the late 1700s.

Burke has managed hotels for Ramada Inns of America and is the former manager of the famous San Ysidro Ranch in Montecito, Calif., where John F. and Jacquline Kennedy honeymooned.

He has recently returned with his family from 2 years in Guatemala, where he managed the Antiquia Resort Hotel.

Mrs. Burke is a native of Guatemala.

Burke is no stranger to the Monterey Peninsula, having been associated iwth the Pine Inn from 1957 to 1961.

Eliott Loomis, the present manager of the Hearthstone, is moving to Adamsville, R. I., where he has taken a 150-year-old general store soon to be remodeled and restored to service as a fine restaurant.

Carmel Couple in Peace Corps

Fourteen young women now in training at Utah State University soon will leave the luxuries of the United States to spend two years in adobe homes in the Bolivian altiplano.

They're Peace Corps trainees, and they're prepared to live without electricity, indoor plumbing, running water and numerous other luxuries.

The 14 women and their husbands will live among the Bolivian Indians as model peasants after completing their 12-week training program at USU.

Virginia Earle, from Carmel, Calif., explained that part of their job as model campesinos is keeping house in an exemplary way. "Keeping clean is part of our duty," she said.

Virginia Earle, Peace Corps volunteer from Carmel, Calif., pulls a weed from the lettuce she and her husband planted during the training program at Utah State University.

Mrs. Earle received her bachelors' degree at the University of California at Davis and her masters degree in biology at Humboldt State College. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray J. Marshall.

To prepare for their assignments as model peasants, the Peace Corps trainees spent one week this summer living with Navajo Indian families in southern Utah and northern Arizona.

Mission Trails Nurse Course

The Central Mission Trails Heart Association is currently sponsoring a coronary care unit course for nurses at Cabrillo College in Aptos. The purpose of the course is to upgrade the level of nursing care available to acutely ill patients in the coronary care units of local hospitals. Thirty-six nurses and nine faculty, representing four Santa Cruz County hospitals, are participating in the program.

Before next summer, the Central Mission Trails Heart Association will offer in both Salinas and Monterey two more coronary care units courses for nurses similar in form and content to the present one. Again, like the present class, each will draw on local hospitals for students and faculty.

There is, it should be added, an important corollary to the Heart Association's program of training as many nurses as possible in the principles of Coronary Care Unit Nursing: its proposal for the nationwide development of specialized hospital care facilities for all heart attack victims. Most Coronary Care Units are presently situated in larger hospitals of more than 250 beds. The advent of coronary care services in all community hospitals, large and small, could, the American Heart Association says, save 50,000 lives annually.

Audubon Wildlife Film Series Opens

The season's Audubon Wildlife film Series begins on Thursday, Oct. 3 when Wilfred E. Gray brings "Four Seasons" to the Pacific Grove junior high school auditorium.

"Four Seasons" is a portrait of a year in British Columbia beginning with springtime on the coast and ending with winter among the snow-embossed peaks of the high Canadian Rockies.

British Columbia, Canada's West Coast Province, is almost entirely mountainous, including within its boundaries the Rocky Mountains on the east and the Coast or Cascade Range on the west. Between the two are a number of other ranges and a hilly plateau region.

Strong contrasts in temperature and rainfall create great variation on the landscape.

Red-necked grebes, snow gees, sharp-tailed grouse, sockeye salmon, bear and deer ar shown in dramatic close-up sequences by award-winning Wilfred E. Gray who personally narrate the program.

The Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History sponsors the films which begin at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the museum or at the auditorium.

Julian P. Graham Studio

Mrs. Hulet Smith of Pebble Beach, former USGA Women's Golf Champion, will be trying for a repeat performance Oct. 2, 3 and 4.

Women's USGA At Dunes

The top women of senior golf will tee off Oct. 2 at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club in the Seventh Annual Senior Women's Amateur Championship of the United States Golf Association.

Included among nearly 100 entries are all the former champions of this event.

The tournament will be played over the Dunes Course Oct. 2, 3 and 4. The championship will be determined by the lowest score over 54 holes.

The Senior Women's Amateur originated in 1962, and is played at a different location each year. This is the first time it has been played on the Monterey Peninsula.

Defending her title will be Mrs. Marge Mason of West Englewood, N. J. She captured this event last year when it was played at the Atlantic City Country Club in Northfield, N. J.

Other past champions entered are Miss Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, N. J. (1962 and 1966), Mrs. Allison Coate of Rye, N. Y. (1963) and Mrs. Hulet G. Smith of Pebble Beach (1964, 1965 and runner-up in 1967).

Miss Orcutt was a member of the first Curtis Cup Team in 1932. She has won the British Open four times, the Canadian two times, the New Jersey State five times and the Metropolitan Women's Amateur ten times.

Also entered in the tournament are Mrs. Philip Cudone of Myrtle Beach, S. C., former Curtis Cup Team player; and Mrs. Robert Monstead of New Orleans, 1968 Women's USGA chairman and current non-playing captain of the Curtis Cup Team. Mrs. Monstead is also the present Louisiana State Women's champion.

Local entries in quest of the coveted title include:

Mrs. Hulet Smith and Mrs. Fred Muhs, both of Pebble Beach; Mrs. Clifford Hunt, Mrs. Harry Hamilton, Mrs. Lawrence Hearne, Mrs. Jack Hurff, Mrs. J. J. Mauer and Mrs. David Peebles, all of MPCC.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

It is to be hoped that the new library hours will be of benefit to many patrons. We are now closed on Saturday evenings. We open a half hour earlier six days a week. We believe that we can better serve patrons by this new schedule. We even hope we can have the library open by the time they get here.

In some ways it is amusing that when patrons arrive to find the library closed they immediately become authorities on time. Their watches are correct. It is of no concern that the library operates on time provided by an electric ship's clock of great accuracy.

Sometimes they beat upon the door and yell advice to the librarians who are dashing about inside trying to get the place ready to open. This does not make for happy relationships. Live and let live and be quiet about it. Saturday evenings were a short of a washout anyway.

And now for books. Let us mention a new entry in the series on Indians done by the University of Oklahoma Press. The latest one is entitled THE RISE AND FALL OF THE CHOCTAW REPUBLIC. The Choctaws were forced to migrate from the South to Oklahoma. This is the story of that migration and the adjustments which the tribe had to make after resettlement. The author of the book is Angie Debo.

Another migration is part of the book THE LATTER-DAY SAINTS by Robert Mullen. This migration is the long journey of the Mormons under the direction of Joseph Smith and then after his death, the direction of Brigham Young. This is a tale of heroic determination and great privation. It is illustrated with photographs.

GREAT RIVERS OF EUROPE is a collection of long articles by various writers, each one writing about a different river. Included are the Danube, Elbe, Loire, Po, Phine, Seine, Tagus, Thames, Tiber and the Volga. The color illustrations are outstanding. Because this was an expensive book it will be shelved in a locked case, but it circulates by special permission. Ask at the desk if you are interested.

A charming book with lovely illustrations is GYPSY FOLK TALES by Voriskova. Many of these legends were handed down from India, which was the ancient homeland of the gypsies. A beautiful and interesting book!

And speaking of India, we have INDIAN ART by Marguerite Deneck. The book consists almost entirely of illustrations with small explanatory notes. The illustrations are very beautiful, and the notes seem adequate.

Finall, we have a circulating copy of THE BOOK OF EUROPEAN LIGHT OPERA by David Ewen. It has a delightful index listing composers, titles, and even some first lines. There is a bibliography of recommended recordings, and of course, the stories and other pertinent information on all the light operas. (We are sometimes led astray in our enthusiasm for high-type indexes and forget to mention the text of the book. Shame on us!)

Leonora Woolams at work in her Sunset studio.

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

A special class for handicapped individuals interested in sculpture is being formed by Leonora Woolams of the Sculpture Guild of Carmel at her Studio 15, located at Sunset Center. Classes will begin on Friday, October 4 and will be held twice a month on alternate Fridays from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Studio 15 is located on the south side of the Cultural Center. Parking is available adjacent to the Studio if the entrance on 10th St. is used. There are no steps to climb; a gentle sloping ramp leads from the parking area to the entrance to the Studio. Newly installed restrooms are available inside the Studio.

According to Miss Woolams the work is well within the range of even the most handicapped persons. Last season she had pupils who were confined to wheelchairs, many had severe deformities of the arms and hands from arthritis, infantile paralysis, and similar crippling diseases. All benefited from the experience of doing and creating with their hands and imagination and from the splendid courage and encouragement of Miss Woolams, herself a polio victim and confined to a wheelchair.

In addition to her work with handicapped persons, Miss Woolams teaches regular classes from 1 to 5 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. Instruction is given in ceramic sculpture, wood carving and metal. For further information call 624-5628 or 624-1315.

Miss Woolams began her studies at the age of sixteen with Glebb Derujinsky in New York. Upon her return to her native San Francisco she studied with Beniamino Bufano for several years. Further study in Paris with John Storrs followed.

Perry House Show For Rene Weaver

A one-man art show featuring paintings by San Francisco artist Rene Weaver is currently showing at the Perry House Art Gallery.

Weaver, who was an instructor at the Asilomar Water Color Workshop this past summer, is showing a carefully chosen collection of large and small land and seascapes including many of Pebble Beach and the ocean around Carmel.

Watercolors by Rene Weaver have been shown in many solo exhibitions, and his rare combination of artist and executive have made him a valuable asset to his community.

He will act as a judge when the Society of Western Artists opens its show at San Francisco's De Young Museum in October. Weaver has served a two-year term as president of the society, a term in which he displayed outstanding initiative and judgement.

His sound and versatile background and natural facility has given him an important standing as teacher, lecturer and juror.

Curator Returns

Kent L. Seavey, curator of the Carmel Museum of Art, has returned from an extensive three-week seminar on the Administration of Historical Agencies and Museums, jointly sponsored by the State Historical Society of Wisconsin and the American Association for State and Local History, through a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts and Humanities.

Seavey was one of the 20 professional museum people selected nationally to participate in the seminar. The faculty for the seminar, held at the Madison headquarters of the State Historical Society, included the president and 13 staff members of the society and 17 representatives of leading historical societies, museums and universities throughout the nation.

The seminar was designed to provide professional directors of small historical societies and museums with an intensive course in the administration of such institutions. The sessions emphasized both the practical and philosophical aspects of historical administration and included lectures, field trips, and informal discussion.

The group also observed the operation of the many departments of the Wisconsin State Historical Society, one of the finest in the county.

2 BEDROOMS, SOUTH OF OCEAN, ONLY $19,500
If this seems impossible, check these OTHER features: all large rooms, including a separate dining room, double-wall construction, separate laundry, fireplace, level lot near Santa Lucia, beamed ceilings, thermostatic heat. At $19,500 it's priced at little more than land value. Call for details on the drawbacks as well as the advantages.

CARMEL HOUSE—ON 2 LOTS—$29,500
Just out of Carmel business district, interesting older home of 2 bedrooms, large living room and 1 bath. Leased to Dec. 15, this year. An excellent value at $29,500. Also, buy the house on 3 lots for $37,500.

4 BEDROOMS NEAR HIGH SCHOOL—$42,500
A fine family home, offered below its replacement cost. 2 baths, family room, dining room, huge carport, large secluded lot. The home is about 4 years old and has about 2,000 square feet of living space.

3 BEDROOMS—2 BATHS—PRIME CORNER LOT
NO VIEW, BUT check these features, few of which are to be found in any ONE home SOUTH OF OCEAN NEAR THE BEACH: 60'x90' corner lot; oversized double garage; dining area; FULLY equipped kitchen; central heat; fairly new; easy-care garden with (weather willing) sunny patio. You'll look a long, long time before you'll find such an all-around good home. $49,500. Exclusive.

CONTEMPORARY LIVING
is the keynote in this architect's home on Carmel Knolls Drive. 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths. Large all-electric kitchen, with breakfast area. Living room almost 30 feet long, separate dining room, 2-car garage and a lawn like a putting green makes this a most desirable offering at $55,000.

EXCELLENT BUY. Separate entrances for both up and downstairs, a quiet canyon outlook and a close-to-Village location are just three of the interesting features of this home. Upstairs there are two good sized bedrooms, bath, large living room and excellent kitchen. Downstairs boasts a huge bedroom-sitting room with fireplace and bathroom. This property is an exceptional value with top financing available. Listed at $33,500.

TIRED OF GUESTS? Then here is your opportunity to acquire an exceptionally well constructed large one-bedroom home, with a beautifully wood paneled living room, spacious separate dining room, sunny large kitchen and modern bathroom. Closets and cupboards galore. Top quality carpeting throughout and an easy-to-care-for garden. This is a good home on a fine lot (60'x100'). Priced at $36,000.

SUPERB OCEAN AND VALLEY VIEW from a traditional home on three quarters of an acre—with the Mission, Point Lobos and mountain view from every room! Forty-foot living-dining area. 15'x20' master bedroom, guest room, den, compact modern kitchen, and the most relaxing view patio we have ever seen. The extra heavy shake roof and other expensive refinements reflect the $95,000 spent on this home in 1964 and that is the price today to settle an estate. Exclusive listing.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOME WITH CARMEL CHARM—Beamed ceiling living room with studio-type window, beamed ceiling dining room, both in beautiful stained redwood. French doors from both rooms go out onto the extra large stone patio. Compact kitchen with new range, laundry room with new washer-dryer. On a corner lot between town and the High School. $41,500.

TWO BLOCKS FROM MAGNIN'S—If you want a level easy walk to the stores we have a rustic two-bedroom home on an oversize oak studded corner lot. This home has been completely redone inside to make it bright and clean but much of the old charm has been retained. There is a separate detached studio. $34,500.

TOO LATE FOR A CARMEL BARGAIN? Not true! We've an excellent ¼-acre lot with Valley views of which the owner says, "SELL IT." Want to try $9,000?

IT'S HARD FOR THE OWNERS TO DRAG themselves away from the dramatic Coast view—south to Point Sur and north to Point Lobos. But when they do, they find a lovely living room, separate dining room and sparkling kitchen to enjoy. Three bedrooms, 2 baths and even shop space are there too—all for only $53,500 and we urge you to see this one now! It's an immaculate home with many dividends.

LET'S GET DOWN TO BUSINESS!

HAVE YOU DREAMED OF OWNING A GIFT SHOP? We offer you an established one in a strategic Monterey location with "built-in" trade and no nearby competition. A lease on reasonable terms runs to Jan. 1, 1971 and includes an option to renew. A perfect opportunity for a couple wishing to supplement their retirement income or for two individuals wanting to make real money and willing to work diligently for that purpose.

ARE YOU AWARE OF THE CRYING NEED FOR NICE APARTMENTS IN CARMEL? A big apartment development is being considered outside of Carmel, but what of the people who prefer living "close-in?" The ones who do not want to maintain a house and garden. We offer an excellent building site 80'x100', zoned C-1-S, a short, level walk from the Village.

CALL FOR APPOINTMENT TO DISCUSS THESE RARE OPPORTUNITIES TO GET DOWN TO BUSINESS.

MAKE AN OFFER to purchase this HOME WITH A PERSONALITY! In prime condition and in a truly pleasing setting, this residence features an excellent floor plan. The charming living room divides a two-bedroom (and two-bath) wing from the third bedroom and bath wing which is most suitable for a den or study "retreat". There is also a separate dining room and a country-type kitchen; the protected rear garden with its fountain invites outdoor enjoyment of a late breakfast or lunch. The front landscaped area provides a semicircular driveway for easy entrance and exit. Very Fair Market Value at $47,500.

IT'S A DELIGHT TO INSPECT this choice building acre in one of Carmel's finest suburban areas . . . cul-de-sac location on a road of very atractive homes. Just enough natural growth of trees to make an artistic background for a country home. An excellent investment at $18,500.

SMALL ENOUGH FOR ONE . . . LARGE ENOUGH FOR TWO: Ideal home for a retired couple or a single person, this Carmel Point home is a blend of both traditional and contemporary atmosphere. Ageless in its rustic exterior of rough stone combined with a shake roof and comfortable in its well-planned interior, this not-old home offers a variety of good features. The private patio-entry is a veritable sun-trap for all-day enjoyment, and the unique living room is cheerful and cozy for hours spent by the fireside. The master bedroom is spacious and quiet with its vaulted ceiling and attached luxury bath; the second bedroom will sleep two guests (or make an ideal study). The separate dining room has a patio exposure and the tiled, equipped kitchen is very functional. Landscaped for easy care and situated a short walk to the shoreline, this "special" listing represents top value at $49,500.

Pebble Beach

$93,500

In that lovely estate area on Del Ciervo Road we are so pleased to be able to offer one of the charming old Spanish homes in prime condition inside and out in a setting of beautiful trees and blooming shrubs on an oversize acre corner. New carpeting, draperies, and complete kitchen equipment. And would you believe a trailer port in addition to the garage, and an apartment over same? And also would you believe—this home has never before been on th market in all its mellow years?

Carmel

Have you looked and looked for a two-bedroom home where BOTH bedrooms are "master" bedrooms—that is, they are both large, both have lovely bathrooms, and each is sunny and pleasant enough to invite their use as private sitting rooms too? And have you also had trouble finding a two-bedroom house with enough room left over on the lot to provide a full, 2-car garage? And do most two-bedroom homes you've seen have miniature living rooms? Would you think a 36-foot one big enough? Especially if it had beamed ceilings and a great fireplace? Maybe we have just listed YOUR house in a lovely area of Carmel on a 53'x100' lot and at this nice comfortable $42,500 price.

Carmel

Mediterranean—$49,500

Beautiful view of the ocean and Point Lobos from this Carmel Woods home on a street-to-street lot. 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, big step-down living room and lovely stairway to second story bedrooms. One bedroom and powder room on main floor. The only reason this house isn't priced $10,000 higher is that the kitchen still needs updating. Do it yourslf, just the way you want it, and really SAVE while you start enjoying immediately all the rest of the house.
